

EMPLOYED LAWYERS PROTECTION

Navigating malpractice claims, especially for in-house counsel, can be a complicated challenge. Relying solely on d&o coverage is not always enough against the real legal risks attorneys potentially face. Our employed lawyers coverage protects in-house counsel from allegations of malpractice while executing their legal duties. Having the added layer of protection with employed lawyers in place can be the differentiator for skyward specialty's producers and their customers.

Our experienced underwriters and in-house claims teams provide unmatched service and take time to truly understand and create solutions to limit exposure for this underserved market.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Up to $5M in limits
- Policy enhancements by line of business
- Coverage available in 49 states
- Experienced in-house claims staff
- Primary and Excess coverage available

TARGET CLASSES

- Available to in-house counsel and their staff to the organization and subsidiaries
- Open to privately held, non-profit, and publicly traded companies

COVERAGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Coverage for pro bono legal services; employer consent not required
- Coverage for moonlighting legal services
- Broad definition of Claim which includes civil, criminal, administrative, disciplinary and regulatory proceedings
- Subpoena Defense Costs coverage
- Coverage for personal injury (as defined in the policy) includes malicious prosecution and abuse of process
- Defense of claims brought by the organization
- Coverage eligible for in-house general counsel, legal assistants, notaries public, & temporary and independent contractor attorneys
- Coverage extensions to include court attendance

Rev 8.24